

Acadia Wind Symphony

A Premier Maine Group of Musicians Dedicated to Promoting Music Education, Professional Development and Love and Passion for Instrumental Music

The Acadia Wind Symphony is a group of musicians comprised mostly of music educators from the state of Maine who join together in professional development and music education to bring our love and passion for music to the general public. This year's concert will be on August 5, 2016 at the Messalonskee High School Performing Arts Center in Oakland, ME at 7:00 p.m. Please contact Jennifer Fortin, the Acadia Wind Symphony Manager at 207-462-1285 for more information.

We are delighted to bring back Maestro Anthony Maiello from George Mason University in Fairfax, Virginia to conduct the Acadia Wind Ensemble for his fourth year with the Acadia Wind Symphony. Maestro Maiello is a favorite among Maine musicians and we are very excited that he will work with our group again this year.

In order for the Acadia Wind Symphony to perform we are seeking funds of support to cover various expenses. Some expenses include the conductor's fees, the concert hall, custodial services, music and publicity.

We are inviting you to become supporters for this worthwhile endeavor. In future years we hope to expand our activities to provide workshops for music educators as well as scholarship opportunities for music study for Maine music students. We are currently offering several levels of support. We are selling advertising space in our program for our concert on August 5, 2016.
